

Frama Information Guides: About Leasing

Any organisation looking to invest in new office equipment will have to consider the best way to finance.

Many of our customers are already enjoying the benefits of a Frama franking system acquired through leasing and the information below highlights why leasing, for many can be the best option for acquisition of equipment.

Why Lease?

It Spreads your Costs

Leasing breaks down the total payment into manageable monthly or quarterly payments so the payments are more manageable.

Easier to Budget

Payments fixed per month/quarter are easier for budgeting purposes and the rate stays the same regardless of changes in inflation or interest rates.

Tax Advantages

Finance lease rentals are 100% allowable against pre-tax profits. The total cost, capital & interest can be offset during the lease period with your payments deducted as a trading expense.

Flexibility

Leasing means that if a new mode or technology is released whilst you are still in your lease period you may be able to get an addition or upgrade arranged within the current agreement, so you don't have to miss out or feel trapped with a product you may have outgrown.

Conserve your Capital Leasing offers 100% financing, allowing you to put your valuable working capital to better use - like increasing your profits - instead of tying it up in a depreciating asset. Better still by leasing there is no deposit to pay and no daunting initial down payment.

Considerations

You will need to pass lease

If you have not been trading long, have a chequered financial history or have not been in profit for a period of time these will all be assessed against your request for lease.

Ask your Frama Account Manager for further information on leasing Franking Systems.