FRAMA REVEALS NEW FOLDER FAMILY

Renowned for its innovative approach to providing effective mailing solutions, Frama has recently launched a new family of paper folding machines. From a compact desktop solution right up to a multi-feed version for heavy duty folding, Frama has carefully devised a range which will meet the varying requirements of the SME business and professional print-shop.

Starting with the P150, here is a solution that will not damage the budget at just £195 yet can carry out your occasional folding needs at the touch of button and sit compactly on your desktop ready when you are.

If you are folding for medium mail runs, you won't go far wrong with Frama's P700. This versatile folding machine can accept A3, A4 and A5 paper to fold and has five different fold types. All the controls are located at the front of the machine, so you can easily make your settings. The P700 is available at £895.

Should your business require more heavy duty folding, then consider the P800 and P900. The P800 has 6 fold types and a capacity of 200 sheets; it is easy to use and quiet in its operation. The P900 will suit the more complex mailing requirements, thanks to a unique triple feed system which provides more flexibility and takes the pain out of inserting multiple sheets. Also offering up to 6 fold types, the P900 would be a real investment for the business that sends frequent mail. The P800 and P900 are both competitively priced at £1295 and £1595 respectively.
